

Collection Selection

Ledebouria socialis

'Violacea' Silver Squill

A native to South Africa with spots on the top side of the leaves that resemble that of a leopards. Only the spots are green on a silver leaf. The undersides of the leaves of this bulb and the bulb itself are bright purple, giving it the cultivar name 'Violacea'. Silver Squill is a unique plant that is easy to grow, great to put into small spots or corners of the garden. Also works great as a potted plant.

- ◆ Evergreen
- ◆ Member of the Lily family
- ◆ Needs partial sun to shade
- ◆ Medium water

